OCCURRENCES of a later date than 15th September 1903 are not recorded.

From time to time the tables which formed the first part of Who's Who have been deleted, both for reasons of space and in order that the book might be more completely what it professes to be, a Biographical Annual. This year these tables are being issued as a separate book, called Who's Who Year Book.

Owing to the continually increasing number of biographies in Who's Who, the task of sending proofs grows year by year more heavy ; this work would be greatly facilitated if every one would add to his or her biography an address, or the name of a club to which correspondence might be sent.

IN THIS SOCIETY are combined the advantages of MUTUAL ASSURANCE with MODERATE PREMIUMS

THE PREMIUMS are so moderate that an Assurance of £1200 or thereby may generally be secured from the first year for the yearly payment which usually would be charged for £1000 only (with profits)—equivalent to an immediate assurance and a certain Bonus of 20 per cent.

THE WHOLE SURPLUS goes to the Policyholders on a simple system at once safe and equitable—no share being given to those by whose early death there is a loss.

Examples of Premiums for £100 at Death—with Profits.

Age.	25	30*	35	40	45	50	55
During Life . . .	£1 17 5	£2 2 4	£2 8 6	£2 16 6	£3 8 2	£4 3 2	£5 2 3
25 Payments . . .	2 9 8	2 13 11	2 19 3	3 5 11	3 15 11	4 8 8	5 5 8
15 Payments . . .	3 7 5	3 13 2	3 19 11	4 7 11	4 18 6	5 11 2	6 6 7

* A person of 30 may secure £1000 at death by a yearly payment, during life, of £21 : 3 : 4. The premium would generally elsewhere secure less than £900 (with profits) instead of £1000. Or he may secure £1000 by 25 yearly payments of £26 : 19 : 2, being thus free of payment before age 55.

The Surplus at the 1901 Investigation was £1,581,000.

Over 60 per cent of the Members who died during the Septennium were entitled to Bonuses which, notwithstanding that the Premiums do not as a rule exceed the non-profit rates of other Offices, were, on the average, equal to an addition of over 50 per cent to the Original Assurances.

ENDOWMENT ASSURANCE—SPECIAL CLASS—WITH PROFITS

AN ATTRACTIVE COMBINATION OF AN IMMEDIATE ASSURANCE WITH PROVISION FOR ADVANCED AGE. FULL INFORMATION ON APPLICATION.

The ACCUMULATED FUNDS exceed £12,500,000

Followed profession of surveyor and civil engineer in England till 1841; arrived in New Zealand, 1842; engaged immediately in surveying districts now known as Waimea East and Stoke, and divided them into allotments of 50 acres to the number of 220, thus enabling the land purchasers from the New Zealand Company to occupy their lands hitherto unallotted; then in connection with his partner, Mr. Thompson, similarly surveyed and subdivided 10,000 acres of the Montere forest and valley; then occupied in various surveys till 1843, when they undertook a survey at the Wairau, where two other survey parties were similarly engaged; these operations were attended by the most deplorable results; the natives had all along declared their determination to prevent the survey and occupation of the Wairau lands by the settlers, and they had obstructed and removed two of the three survey parties; his party being strong, and the survey being smaller than the others, it was finished at the time of the Maori obstructionist arrival at the Wairau, and his party had returned to Nelson, all except himself, who remained, and accompanied the magistrate and armed party who came from Nelson to enforce possession of the land in dispute; the party opposing the Maories numbered 48 in all—24 of whom lost their lives in the attack and subsequent massacre; in 1844 he occupied and cultivated his land on the Waimea swamp, which soon became a fertile farm; during a portion of 1844 was engaged with Mr. Tuckett, chief surveyor of the New Zealand Company, in exploring the middle island in search of a suitable site for the Church of Scotland settlement, which resulted in the selection of Otago; when the Constitution Act came into operation with its six Local Parliaments, he became a member of the Provincial Council of Nelson, and continued his membership during the 22 years of provincialism, being its Speaker throughout, except in the first session; at the same time took a full share in connection with the several local bodies, whether Road Boards, Land Board, School Committee, Education Board, or Board of College Governors, and was a member of the successive Synods of the Church of England. Address: Waimea, Nelson, N.Z.

Don Carlos, grand-nephew of Ferdinand VII., claims the Crown of Spain on the ground that Isabella, d. of Ferdinand VII. and Christina, and mother of Alfonso XII., owing to the Salic law, was debarred from the succession. Like his grandfather and uncle, who as Charles V. and Charles VI. fought for their rights (the former during 7 and the latter during 3 years), Don Carlos took up arms in 1872, and reigned as Charles VII. over the greater part of Northern Spain until 1876, when, being surrounded by the forces of Alfonso XII., who had recently been proclaimed King at Madrid, he retired into France. As the undisputed senior heir male of the House of Bourbon, Don Carlos would have a distinct right to the throne of France in the event of a monarchical restoration, but though frequently invited by the royalists of that country to put forward his claim, he has always abstained from doing so. Heir: Don Jaime, b. 1870, an officer in the Russian Army. Address: Palazzo Loredan, Venice.
